WORK EXPERIENCE

Front End Developer

Personal Work

I designed a user-friendly landing page for an agro-market website that displays their commitment to providing fresh, locally sourced product. The page includes clear descriptions and images of products, allowing customers to easily navigate and make purchases. My expertise in web design ensured a professional and appealing page that effectively showcases the agro-market's mission and products.

Front End Developer

Freelancer

As a freelance web developer and designer, I have extensive experience in front-end and back-end development, including WordPress. My skills include creating visually appealing and responsive designs. I am committed to delivering high-quality websites that meet or exceed my clients' expectations.
